“Nothing without Joy!” Loris Malaguzzi

By listening, our children feel appreciated for their contributions, —big and small. We value their ideas.

Our Purpose

Imagine the power of your child. Imagine the unlimited capacity to see the world with joy and wonder. To greet each day as an inspiring new adventure. At Creative Children's Center, school is all about possibilities. Instead of “how best to teach,” our approach proposes “how best to learn.” We're grounded in the belief that all children are competent, gifted learners. The idea is simple—trust in their born abilities, provide resources and adult support, and children thrive. We're proud to offer an exceptional school with a stimulating environment, great resources, loving teachers and parents dedicated to honoring a child's right to experience such a school.

Our Philosophy

Our educational doctrine is grounded in constructivism. As a constructivist school we feel that children build knowledge by actively collaborating in the learning process. School becomes a place of relationships. Relationships with children, teachers and parents. Relationships created with the environment, the ideas and the materials, the school and the community. It is through these interactions that children construct understanding, self-esteem and appreciation of the world. Our fundamentals have been influenced by our studies and work with many constructivist educators: Jean Piaget, Christine Chaillé, Loris Malaguzzi, Amelia Gambetti, and our collaborations with the Schools in Reggio Emilia, Italy.

Our Past

Our Director, Lucy Chaillé, and a group of dedicated parents founded Creative Children's Center in 1990. Since that time thousands of students have participated in our programs. Our facility has three interactive classrooms and a large playground. We are members of the Parent Child Preschools of Oregon.

Our Claim to Fame

CCC was proud to have been featured on PBS' National NewsHour with Jim Lehrer. The title story “Brain Power” emphasized that children learn through concrete experiences. Our preschool program was shown as an example of excellence in early education.

Summer Outdoor Creativity Camps

CCC's summer program celebrates the outdoors! Our 100 x 200 foot playground is designed for "natural" fun. Summer brings new special areas for adventure and play!

- Creation Station
- Painting/drawing studio
- Wood working center
- Drama and Costume Play
- Giant sandbox and water area
- The mud pie kitchen / restaurant

Each day students are given "launching points" for their investigations. Teachers introduce "Big Ideas" that inspire children to think and wonder. One day builds upon the next, for an active and fulfilling slice of summer fun!

Grow Garden Grow

Week 1, June 9-12

Get out the gloves! Get out the shovels! Get out the seedlings! Let's plant a garden and watch it grow! We'll learn about flowers, fruits, and vegetables. We will study some of the garden's creepy crawly friends and foes. With art, songs, clay, and stories we will discover gardening in exciting new ways! Participants will take home a potted friend!

Fort and Fantasies

Week 2, June 16-19

Join in the adventure of the outdoors! Hop on the wagon, make a raft, and get on board with the tall tales of the American Frontier. This week we will explore the "lost art" and the adventures of building shanty shacks and forts from any and all materials. Costumes take us back to a land before our time as we explore forgotten materials for art and construction. Imagine the days when you could turn anything into a work of genius.

Go Crazy like Jackson Pollock

Week 3, June 23-26

Pollock broke the mold and transformed the image of modern art with his innovative approach to painting. We seek to break the image of what art can be, what can be used to make art, and who is an artist. From balls to brushes, from splatter to brush strokes, children will find the creativity within as they experiment with, out of the box, some say crazy, art techniques. Messes will ensue so dress appropriately!

Monet's Garden

Week 4, July 7-10

Nature moves us all when we take the time to look and listen. In this sensory week we will use the gardens to connect us deeper with our earth. We will explore clay, wire, wood, fiber, and drawing mediums in our outdoor studio classroom. Science and music will come into play as we learn about the elements and find inspiration in sound!

Harvest Hoedown

Week 5, July 14-17

Tomatoes, raspberries, peas, and strawberries—Summertime brings healthy garden foods straight from the farm to the table. In this week of farming fun we will learn nutrition while creating culinary delights, from freezer jam to pizza sauce! Keep an eye out for special guests!

Water Wonders

Week 6, July 21-24

Water—H<sub>2</sub>O! A gas, a liquid, and a solid! Water is magical in its ability to sustain and inspire all. From splashy arts and crafts, to wet and wild science, water becomes a tool of expressive fun and thought! Prepare for a wet week of adventure by bringing swimsuits and sunscreen!
